STONNINGTON SYMPHONY 2008

25th
ANNIVERSARY SEASON

FROM THE ARTISTIC DIRECTOR

2008 is a landmark season for the Stonnington Symphony as we celebrate the orchestra's twenty-fifth anniversary. This is a chance to pay tribute to all of the musicians, conductors, soloists, volunteers and managers who have been the lifeblood of the orchestra since its creation in 1983, when the orchestra was known as the Malvern Symphony Orchestra. Since then the group has established itself as Melbourne's, and indeed one of Australia's leading community orchestras.

Stonnington Symphony has produced over one hundred concerts throughout the last 25 years, thus providing numerous and varied performance opportunities for its members, soloists and conductors, many of whom have gone on to build successful careers in leading orchestras both in Australia and overseas.

This year we congratulate the inaugural winner of the Stonnington Symphony Conductor's Prize Matthew Toogood who conducts the Symphony Under the Stars concert. We also welcome back another rising talent - local conductor Pat Miller who teams up with one of Australia's finest pianists Kristian Chong for the first of our series concerts in the Malvern Town Hall. After the huge success of his previous concert we are delighted to welcome back a legend of Australian music Barry Tuckwell for a program not to be missed.

Our final concert is a very special event, our anniversary gala featuring one of the orchestra's founders, principal cellist of the Adelaide Symphony Orchestra Janis Laurs who will join us for a performance of the Dvorak Cello Concerto.

On behalf of the orchestra and management we thank The City of Stonnington and especially you for your support of the orchestra and enabling us to make an important contribution to the community through our love of sharing music.
